While the first wave of aesthetics treatments several years ago managed to help us look younger and fresher, the latest suite of non-invasive options are even safer, quicker, gentler and more effective - all with minimal or no downtime.

Problem: Hair loss and thinning hair

Solution: iGrow

What: If topical medication isn't further improving your hair loss situation; a complicated hair implantation procedure is out of the question; and regular laser therapies are too troublesome to schedule, iGrow could be your easiest solution. This DIY home treatment only involves wearing a helmet that uses painless, heat-free "cold" laser and LED light to awaken hair roots, stimulate growth, and prolong the lifespan of follicles. The hands-free headwear comes with an automated handset with embedded headphones that can be plugged into your music player, so you can multitask while sitting through your 20 to 25min session just twice or thrice weekly.
