THE BALD TRUTH

In today's pursuit of image perfection, preventing hair loss sits right up there on the list along with wrinkle eradication and lifting sagging skin.

IT MAY HAVE STARTED with your noticing a few more strands on your hairbrush every night. You could have realised one day that your scalp never seemed more visible than now. Or perhaps your hairstylist has been hinting more strongly at your trying their new anti-hair loss products?

You may think your hair is thinning due to all the styling stress it goes through, thanks to the countless events on your social calendar. But the truth is, severe hair loss is more commonly the result of male and female pattern baldness.

Unlike skin enhancing treatments like Botox and IPL, which today are worn as badges of pride, hair thinning still suffers the image of being the affliction of those with the inevitable surrender to ageing changes or worse, not-so-perfect genes. Is it any wonder no one wants to be caught leaving a hair treatment specialist?

Fret not, fashionistas, for assistance is nigh. Asia HealthPartners, a modern medical centre dedicated to those who value discretion in their pursuit for perfection, offers HairAesthetics in its clinic conveniently located along Orchard Road.

HairAesthetics is the most comprehensive restoration clinic for medical hair restoration services. Offering both oral and topical prescribed medicine tailored to your hair loss type, the clinic also specialises in surgical treatments like hair transplants – still the only effective way of permanently restoring hair.

Unlike the majority of non-medical hair loss treatment services which are at best based on non-scientific herbal remedies and come with disclaimer tags that offer little comfort, HairAesthetics' surgical hair restoration transplants existing bald-resistant hair follicles to your hair-thinning areas, where they continue to grow for a lifetime. The transplanted hair follicle starts to grow between four to six months, starting thinly then growing thicker and fuller over time – a gradual and natural process that is permanent.

In the trained hands of Colin Tham, plastic surgeon and director of Aesthetics, and Vanessa Phua, family physician with an interest in aesthetic medicine, you are assured of inimitable medical care and cutting-edge medical advancements that yield the best results for thinning hair.
